19	What do you think was the most valuable activity used to promote learning in this course?
	Practical examples and homeworks.  The examples professor held up to explain various topics  The entertaining and real world examples that were provided to supplement the material.   The lectures  Homework   practice questions.  His presentations and memorable examples  Communication  Professor's dedication to make us think   The cool examples.
20	If this course were offered, again what improvements would you recommend?
	Less multiple choice questions on tests.  Students coming up on the whiteboard and some group projects or group studies would be marvelous.  No improvements.  No improvements. This course was excellent!!!!  I do not think that the course needs improvements.  splitting the two consecutive classes  Exams should cover only in class material.  No improvements  Making actual exams more similar to sample ones   Nothing really.
21	What are the three most important things you learned in this course?
	Economic way of thinking. Level:beginner (Welcome to the matrix) How to deal with graphics That I want to actually study Economics. Thank you, Prof. Stankov  Demand and Supply curve, and open and closed market  You should always take into consideration your opportunity cost.  I learned about economic principals, theory, and ways to approach problems.   Taxation, inflation, elasticity  1. demand, supply, equilibrium 2. Taxation 3. Economic structures   to study on my own to think  1.How to think like an economist 2.The basis of economy 3.Apply the knowledge in real life situations  Group discussions, the idea to think critical and communication with the professor  Microeconomics's basics ; How to think out of the box.; How to apply concepts to real life;   Marketing ideas, how markets work and types of markets.
22	Is there any topic that should be removed from the course?
	None.  None.  No.  No  No  No  No  No   No.
